As one of the first Roku TVs, the MRD6000 is based on the new Roku OS TV-Platform, combining linear TV and streaming into one comfortable TV-experience with lightning-fast zapping times. Its integrated tuner receives linear TV via DVB-T/T2 and supports Timeshift via USB. The cross-platform search function Roku Search makes it easy to find exactly the content you want to watch - whether in your live programmes or in your streaming subscriptions. This makes streaming fun.
